TUITION, PAYMENTS, AND REFUNDS

HOW MUCH IS TUITION PER SEMESTER?

Fall 2017/Spring 2018
Tuition (9-10 Units @ $570.00 per unit)	$5,130-$5,700
Student Activity Fee	$60.00
Deferred Payment Plan fee per semester	$25.00
Late deferred payment fee for 1 st time, per semester; thereafter, if account is not current, per semester	$25.00 $100/thereafter
Returned Check Fee – per incident	$25.00

WHEN DO I HAVE TO PAY MY TUITION?

Tuition is due the day you register. If paying in full and not utilizing the deferred payment plan, payment may be made online, by check, credit card, or cash. If you are using the deferred payment plan, your first installment of tuition and school fees are due the day you register. The remaining payments are due on or before the 15th of each month, as indicated on your financial tab on Populi.

WHAT IF I CANNOT PAY MY TUITION ON TIME?

- Late Fee: There will be a $25.00 first-time late fee charged to any account per semester for which payment is not made when due. Thereafter, a $100 penalty fee will be administered for each additional month, per semester, that has an outstanding balance.

- Administrative Dismissal: Failure to make two consecutive payments is grounds for administrative dismissal. Students subject to dismissal may be notified.
- Ineligibility for Examinations: Students who have outstanding tuition owed are not eligible to register or take exams. Students with past due balances will be contacted and informed that they will not be allowed to take the exam unless their account is current. All checks and credit card payments must be cleared for payment 24 hours before the exam.
- Revocation of Deferred Payment Privileges: Students who fail to make payments as agreed will become ineligible for future deferred payment privileges.

Financial questions may be addressed to the Student Services Director, Melissa Fuller-Haskin.

WHAT IF MY TUITION CHECK BOUNCES?

A $25.00 return check fee will be applied to your tuition account. Be aware that each student who attends Lincoln Law School and, ultimately, prepares for the California State Bar exam, must be certified by the School to the Bar Committee as being a fit candidate to be admitted to the Bar. This certification includes a survey of personal information on the applicant, including knowledge of credit. It becomes a difficult situation when a student seeking admission to the Bar issues a check with insufficient funds, which is a felony or misdemeanor depending on the amount and discretion of the District Attorney.

DEFERRED PAYMENT PLAN

Students may choose this option for payment, which allows tuition payments to be made on a monthly basis. There is a $25 per semester service charge applied when using this plan. A schedule of payments is available at the Administration Office or on Populi in the shared files. Invoices will be sent through Populi, and payment may be made online from your invoice or through your Populi financial tab.

Arrangements for the Deferred Payment Plan must be made in advance to registration. You will be provided an enrollment agreement to sign, confirming your compliance with the obligations to the School and agreement to adhere to such policies in the Student Handbook. Timely payments are a condition for remaining on the program. This plan may be revoked if compliance is not adhered to.

A late fee of $25 will be applied for the 1st late payment per semester. Thereafter, a $100 fee will be applied to your account each month until the account is considered current.

STUDENT LOANS

Lincoln Law School participates in the SallieMae Smart Option Student Loan® for Graduate students. Loans are arranged directly between the lender and the student and are based on the student's credit-worthiness. Lincoln Law School in no way makes, guarantees, or is in any way responsible for a student's decision to obtain a loan or ability to repay. We do not participate in TITLE IV funding through the Department of Education (DOE); therefore, we do not have a DOE school code.

Information about the SallieMae loan program can be obtained from the following:

SLM Financial Corporation (Law Student Loan)
Phone: 1-855-429-9759
FAX Number: 1-317-806-4871
Web Address: www.salliemae.com/law

Lincoln Law School believes it is in the best interest of the student to avoid student loan debt. The School offers an interest-free tuition payment plan to assist students in paying for their education as it is received. However, the School recognizes that financial demands often necessitate obtaining loans. It is for this reason that the School has applied to be included in the SallieMae Smart Option Student Loan® for Graduate students program.

REFUNDS

If a student determines, prior to the start of the semester, that he or she will not attend the School, any tuition previously paid will be refunded. All tuition refunds are calculated based upon the date of withdrawal. No fees are refundable.

To view the current refund schedule, please see the Academic Calendar on the website.

Refunds are made within 30 days of the withdrawal date or the student's last day of attendance. Should subsequent Federal or California regulation require a change to this Refund Policy, Lincoln Law School will adhere to such requirements.

If a student is a loan recipient with a credit at the time of withdrawal, the credit will be returned to the lender. No loan credits will be refunded to the student.

POPULI

Our student information system, Populi, offers students a convenient place to find items pertaining to their school experience, all in one area. Your home page consists of a number of important tabs leading to the following:

- One's course pages;
- The school calendar;
- Personal information, including contact and student ID number;
- Posted grades and transcripts;
- Course/faculty evaluations;
- Financial information, including a history of financial transactions and a link to pay tuition and fees online.

News and events will be noted on The Feed, and communications with others may be made on one's Bulletin Board.

Populi Support is always just a "Help" click away! In the upper-right corner, find the orange "Help" button to discover an abundance of information about all that Populi has to offer and tutorials to get you there.

COURSE/FACULTY EVALUATIONS

Our students' opinions are greatly valued. Your evaluations of faculty and courses help to improve our program. With your input, we are able to continually improve the law school experience for our students. At the end of each course, your professor will allow time to participate in the faculty/course evaluations, done through on Populi. Each submittal is anonymous. The professors do not see any comments until after grades are submitted, and those comments never reveal one's name. Although these evaluations are not required, it is expected and strongly encouraged that you participate.

REDUCE VIRUS RISK

If your computer gets infected with a virus, all your information can be compromised, including your Populi account. Use an updated anti-virus program, and avoid downloading and running software from untrusted web sites or emails. Always install the latest updates for Windows or Mac, since these updates often patch serious security holes.

You are expected to remain in class for the entire scheduled class period. Students who leave before the class is dismissed may be marked absent. Faculty may take roll a second time, after break.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN I AM ABSENT?

Please try your best to avoid any absences. To check how many absences you have, you may see your attendance record on your Populi account. Check your Populi course page for any materials that may have been posted. Excused absences due to illness or emergencies require verification. Only the dean may excuse an absence, and documentation must be presented at the time of request. Any dispute about absences MUST be made in a timely manner, prior to the course ending. Excessive absences will result in Administrative Disqualification. Students who have been disqualified must petition the Academic Standards Committee for reinstatement.

MAY A CLASSMATE SIGN THE ROLL SHEET FOR ME?

No. A student may not sign a roll sheet for another student. This action would result in a falsification of the official records of the School and could subject both students to disciplinary action.

EXAMINATION PROCEDURES

EXAMINATION RULES

1. All financial obligations must be current.
2. Students may not begin writing or typing until the proctor starts an examination. All students must stop writing or typing when the proctor announces the end of the time for the examination. If a student continues to write or type after time is called, the proctor may refuse to accept the examination and the student may be subject to disciplinary action.
3. Essay questions may be handwritten in ink or typed, and must be legible.
4. Students wishing to use their laptop computer must register for Exam soft online. Students will receive notification of registration two weeks prior to exams.
5. The Law School will furnish all bluebooks and scratch paper needed for examinations.
6. Each handwritten answer must be written in a separate bluebook. Students may use as many bluebooks as are necessary to answer each question, but the answer to each question must be kept separate from other answers.
7. The student must label all necessary identification on each examination answer. Exam ID number, course name, professor's name, and question label must be provided by the student. Example: (Ex: Question #1, Book 1 of 2)
The Administration Office will NOT provide any identification after the examination has been administered.
8. Each answer written in a bluebook must be properly stapled. Example: If Question #1 ends up being 3 (three) bluebooks, you must staple the bluebooks in order.
Please staple on the SEAM of the bluebook, so the professor will be able to open the bluebook to read the exam! The Administration Office will not staple bluebooks together after the exam has been administered.
9. Your Exam ID number is to be written on all examination answers as a means of identification. Answers with student names on them may not be accepted.
10. Students taking an examination may not have at their desk, nor refer to, any notes, casebooks, textbooks, outlines, or briefs during the examination, except upon permission granted by the faculty member giving the examination.
11. Students shall not discuss the examination with each other during the examination. Students taking an examination other than during the regularly scheduled examination time, shall not discuss the examination with any person until all students have taken the examination.
12. Students may leave the examination room to use the restroom. Students may not leave the building during an examination. Students who leave the examination room may not take any notes or papers with them, may not consult any notes or other reference materials while out of the examination room, and may not return to the examination room with such materials.
13. Students who require special accommodations for examinations must obtain and complete the Accommodation Policy, which can be obtained at the Administration Office. Approval must be received no later than 30 days of their first examination.

These rules apply to all examinations, except for deviations posted by the faculty member giving the examination. It is each student's responsibility to check for posted notices prior to the examination.

Students who violate the above rules may receive a failing grade for any examination during which an infraction of these rules occurs and may also be subject to disciplinary action or disqualification.

WHAT IF I MISS AN EXAM?

If you miss an exam and have not received prior permission to be absent for such exam, you will receive a grade of "F" in the course. Approval to miss a scheduled examination will be given only in cases of serious emergencies and illnesses where the administration is notified in writing. Verification of the emergency or illness is required.

If the Administration approves your absence from an examination, a make-up examination may be given. There will be a make-up exam fee of $200 associated with the rescheduling of an exam.

WHAT IF I MISS ALL MY EXAMS?

If you fail to take all of your examinations and did not contact the school, grades of "F" will be posted for all courses, and you will be dismissed from school.

Grades

HOW WILL I BE GRADED?

Each course syllabus will outline the parameters for grading. Written examinations are given at the end of each class, and most classes also have a midterm approximately midway through the class. Each professor grades his/her students' exams.

DO THE PROFESSORS KNOW THEY ARE GRADING MY EXAMS?

It is the policy of Lincoln Law School to preserve the anonymity of the student throughout the grading process until the professor has submitted all the grades for that examination. Anonymity is accomplished by using assigned exam numbers to identify exams. The staff checks each exam to ensure that names have not been included. In courses such as Moot Court and Trial Advocacy, which rely on oral presentations, the grading is monitored by video camera or by judges and the instructor. Anonymity is not applicable in these Pass/Fail classes.

WHEN WILL I KNOW MY GRADES?

The professors are asked to return the grades within three weeks. After the professor has scored the exams, the dean must approve the grades for release. Grades will then be visible on your Populi account. Your grades may be locked on your account if any financial obligations are still pending.

HOW CAN I FIND OUT WHEN GRADES ARE POSTED?

As grades are approved for release, an email will be sent informing you. Please do not call the office requesting your grades. If you have a question about a lock on your grades, call the office for more details.

WHEN CAN I GET MY EXAMS?

In compliance with the Rules of the Committee of Bar Examiners, students' final examination answers are kept on file for one year. These answers are kept in the library. Students must fill out an Exam Request form at the Administration Office or on the website. The librarian will then pull the exam and email it to the student. After one year, you may pick up your exams in the library. Any exams older than one year that have not been picked up by September 15, will be discarded. When discarding examination answers, all identifying information and grades are shredded.

WHAT IF I HAVE A QUESTION FOR THE PROFESSOR ABOUT MY EXAM?

A student wishing to review an examination answer with a professor should, prior to scheduling a meeting with the professor, make a copy of the answer or make arrangements with the Administrative Office for the original answer to be made available to the professor. No grade changes are permitted.

Grade Review Policy

I. Policy Statement

The grading system is one which normally involved a subjective judgment by the professor. Students who review their answers and question a grade on one or more issues should recognize that they may have received more points on other issues than they earned. It is not the intent of this policy to allow students to question the subjective judgment of Lincoln Law School professors. However, the Law School recognizes that it is possible for a professor to fail to give sufficient points to a student answer which deserves those points. The purpose of this policy is to allow a student to challenge a grade by showing that a professor substantially deviated from his or her grading policy on one or more issues in an exam answer.

II. Resolution with Professor

A student and a willing professor are always allowed to meet to discuss grades. However, any grade change outside the Grade Review Policy must be submitted to the dean or registrar by the professor within ten (10) days of posting. All grades, except those which are subject to a Grade Challenge Petition, are final ten (10) days after posting.

III. Grade Challenge Petition

- A. A student who contends that a substantial deviation from grading policy has occurred may file a Grade Challenge petition. The petition shall be submitted to the dean or his designee within fourteen (14) days after posting of the grade.
- B. The Grade Challenge petition shall:
 1. Include a copy of the student's exam answer.
 2. Identify the issue or issues for which the student contends he/she did not receive a proper score.
 3. Describe why the student contends that there was a substantial deviation in grading policy by the professor.
- C. Upon receipt of the Grade Challenge petition, the dean shall submit the petition to the professor in question. The professor shall review the petition and provide a written response to the dean.
- D. The response from the professor shall state whether or not the student's score is to be changed and the reasons for the decision.
- E. Upon receipt of the professor's decision, the dean shall provide the response to the student. If the student is not satisfied with the decision, the student may, within five (5) days of receipt of the decision, file a written Notice of Appeal to the dean.

IV. Appeal Process

- A. The Law School shall have a Grade Review Committee, consisting of professors with at least three years of essay grading experience. The Committee shall hear all Grade Challenge Petitions. The Committee shall schedule a hearing with the student appellant. The Committee may elect to have one of its members conduct the hearing and report the findings to the other members. The professor whose grade is challenged shall attend the hearing whenever possible.
- B. The Grade Review Committee shall make decisions by majority vote. At the hearing, there will be a presumption of regularity as to the grade bestowed and the student shall bear the burden of proving a substantial deviation in grading by the professor.
- C. The proceeding will be informal. The amount of time allotted and the direction of the questioning shall be at the discretion of the Committee. The Committee may, in its discretion, ask either party to furnish additional evidence, and all parties shall have the right to inspect all relevant documents.
- D. The Chairperson will reduce the decision to writing and furnish copies to the parties. The decision shall be forwarded to the dean and will be final and binding.

HOW IS MY GPA CALCULATED?

Letter grades have the following grade point value:

A	4.0 grade points per unit
A-	3.7 grade points per unit
B+	3.3 grade points per unit
B	3.0 grade points per unit
B-	2.7 grade points per unit
C+	2.3 grade points per unit
C	2.0 grade points per unit
C-	1.7 grade points per unit
D+	1.3 grade points per unit
D	1.0 grade points per unit
D-	0.7 grade points per unit
F	0.0 grade points per unit

Your GPA is calculated by multiplying the number of units for each graded course by the grade points per unit for the grade received. The total grade points for all classes are then divided by the total number of units earned in graded courses to determine your GPA.

HOW WILL I KNOW MYGPA?

A transcript is sent to each student at the end of the academic year. If a transcript is needed at any other time, a written request to the registrar is required. Forms for requesting a transcript are available at the Administration Office or online at www.lincolnlaw.edu. There is a fee of $10.00 for each official transcript requested. Unofficial transcripts can be printed from Populi by clicking on - My Profile > Student > Gear Icon > Export Transcript.

HOW WILL MY GPA BE AFFECTED BY A CREDIT/NO CREDITCOURSE?

In a credit/no credit course, you will receive credit for a course if a grade of "CR" is earned and will receive no credit if a grade of "NC" is earned. Neither grade will affect your grade point average.

HOW WILL MY GPA BE AFFECTED BY A PASS/FAIL COURSE?

In a pass/fail course, you will receive credit for a course if a grade of "P" is earned and will receive no credit if a grade of "F" is earned. Only an "F" grade will affect your grade point average.

IF I RECEIVE NO CREDIT, WILL I HAVE TO REPEAT THE COURSE?

If you receive an “NC” or “F” grade in a required course, you will be required to repeat the course to meet the school's graduation requirements. Because you are required to earn sufficient units to graduate, if you receive “NC” or “F” in an elective course, you will have to repeat the course or take a different course with the same number of units. If you repeat a course in which you received a grade of “F”, your new grade will replace the “F”, which will no longer affect your GPA.

ACADEMIC STANDING

HOW IS MY ACADEMIC STANDING DETERMINED?

Academic standing is determined at the close of the Spring Semester of each school year. If you have obtained a grade point average of 2.00 or better for the year and have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or better, you will be advanced in good standing. First-year students must, additionally, pass two of the three core first-year courses (Contracts, Criminal Law, and Torts) with a grade of “C” or better to advance to the second year in good standing.

WHAT IF I AM NOT ADVANCED IN GOODSTANDING?

If you fail to obtain a grade point average of 2.00 or better for the year or cumulatively, you will be subject to academic disqualification. You will receive a letter with a copy of your transcript at the end of the academic year notifying you of your right to petition the Faculty Committee on Academic Standards for review of your academic disqualification. The Committee may allow you to advance on academic probation, may require that you repeat a year of study, may require that you repeat certain classes, or may allow your academic disqualification to take effect. The Committee's decision is final, and there is no appeal available.

WHAT IS THE FACULTY COMMITTEE ON ACADEMIC STANDARDS?

The Committee consists of three to five faculty members. Its duty is to review such academic matters as petitions to continue at Lincoln when the student is subject to academic disqualification. Petitions must be made in writing, and decisions of the Committee are final.

ACADEMIC DISQUALIFICATION

WHY WOULD I BE ACADEMICALLY DISQUALIFIED?

- Failure to maintain a cumulative academic grade point average of 2.00
- Failure to obtain a grade point average of 2.00 for any academic year
- Failure to pass two of the three core first-year courses (Contracts, Criminal Law, and Torts) with a grade of “C” or better, regardless of grade point average.

WHAT DO I DO IF I AM ACADEMICALLY DISQUALIFIED?

Upon notice that you are subject to academic disqualification, you may petition the Faculty Committee on Academic Standards for review of your academic record and request advancement on probation or other appropriate action, in writing. The petition should include the following:

1. Demonstrate that you possess the ability to succeed in the study of law and that your academic disqualification was due to causes other than lack of academic capacity (e.g. unforeseen personal problems, illness, and major family difficulties).
2. Explain the change in circumstances, conditions etc., that would enable you to devote a substantial amount of time to the study of law in order to achieve academic good standing.

The petition may, additionally, be accompanied by any supporting documentation and letters of reference that you feel support the petition. Letters from faculty members, however, will not be considered by the Committee. The Committee's decision is final, and there is no appeal available.

MISCELLANEOUS

CAN I BRING MY CHILDREN TO SCHOOL WITH ME?

With the exception of the Administrative Office, children are not allowed in the building. Although your children may be well behaved, it is distracting to your classmates to have children in the classroom, and it is inappropriate to leave children unattended in the building.

WHERE CAN I PARK?

Student parking is allowed in the parking spaces behind the school, on the street, and in public parking lots nearby. Please leave the spots on the side of the building open for staff and faculty. Our professors MUST have a spot to park! However, on Legal Writing days, students are not allowed to park in the School's parking lot (unless they are using the handicapped spots and must have a handicapped placard displayed). We need the extra spaces for our Legal Writing readers and tutors. Students may not park in areas not clearly marked as parking spaces. In consideration of our neighbors, students are requested not to park in residential areas around the School.

If you are parked illegally, your car will be towed. Safeway and the Eye Clinic have warned us that they will tow students' cars parked in their parking lots. In addition, U.S. Bank will tow cars parked in front of their ATM.

WHAT DO I DO IF MY CAR IS TOWED?

If your car is towed from the School's parking lot, call Rincon Towing Inc. at (916)452-2303.

STUDENT CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE

Lincoln Law School expects its students to uphold the highest standards of ethics and good moral character while enrolled at the Law School. Good moral character includes qualities of honesty, fairness, candor, trustworthiness, observance of fiduciary responsibilities, respect for and obedience to the laws of the state and the nation, along with respect for the rights of others and for the judicial process.

WHAT CONDUCT ON MY PART COULD RESULT IN DISCIPLINE?

Administrative disciplinary action may be taken by the Law School against any student whose personal conduct raises serious questions, in the opinion of the administration, as to such student's fitness to remain at an institution of legal education. Such action may be imposed for any conduct by a student which violates the high standards of ethics expected of potential officers of the legal community, interferes with the rights of other students, disrupts the intended functioning of the Law School, or otherwise violates any of the established policies of the Law School, including, but not limited to, the following conduct or situations:

- Using, giving, or receiving unauthorized aid, equipment, or materials during an examination;
- Defacing, vandalizing, stealing or removing without proper authorization any property belonging to or leased by the Law School, including books or other materials from the School's library;
- Manufacturing, distributing, dispensing, possessing or using of any controlled substance, explosive or firearm (except peace officers) on the Law School property;
- Engaging in harassment of any person while on the Law School premises or at any School function (whether or not on school premises) sponsored by or conducted under authority of the School or by any student organization, such as the Student Bar Association, affiliated with the Law School;
- Engaging in plagiarism or knowingly making false statements or entries in any Application for Admission to the Law School or any other document affecting the records of the Law School; and
- Willful commission and conviction of acts in violation of city, state, or federal laws or ordinances.

Computer Usage: Lincoln Law School is equipped with wireless Internet access. Please be respectful of your professors by paying attention in class and not surfing the Internet. Each professor will have the discretion to disable access to the system during class time. The system should be of benefit to students with laptop computers for the Legal Research class and other research assignments.

The system is not to be used for a student's personal business, visiting inappropriate web sites (such as gambling, pornography, etc.), illegal activities, or other matters not relating to the study of law. Please be advised that any violation of this policy will result in student disciplinary action.

WHAT TYPE OF DISCIPLINARY ACTION CAN BE TAKEN AGAINST ME?

Disciplinary action under these policies may include, but is not limited to, one or more of the following:

- Written or verbal reprimand, of which a notation or a copy thereof may be placed in the student's file.
- Cancellation of an examination/course grade or denial of course credit.
- Probation, suspension, or expulsion.

WHAT HAPPENS IF I AM ACCUSED OF A CONDUCT VIOLATION?

Before administrative charges are formally made, the dean will contact the student to be charged and attempt to mediate the problem through discussion. If this fails, charges will be formally made, and the dean will appoint a hearing panel to review the charges. The panel will be composed of three faculty members, the dean, and the president of the Student Bar Association or his/her appointee from the student body.

The student so charged may have assistance of counsel of the student's own choosing. The student may have the opportunity to call witnesses on the student's own behalf and to examine adverse witnesses.

A final determination shall be provided in writing, which shall contain a statement of the facts found and conclusions, along with the decision reached. If a sanction is imposed, it shall be clearly stated.

This procedure does not apply to matters relating to academic probation, academic disqualification, other failure to meet academic standards (except for concerns regarding a student who has improperly signed an attendance roster or signed an attendance roster on behalf of another person), or financial matters.

STUDENTS' RIGHTS AND SERVICES

A student with a non-academic or non-financial grievance should discuss the matter with the dean or director. If no resolution is forthcoming, the student has the right to have a hearing before a panel of disinterested members of the faculty and administration, have assistance of counsel, and the opportunity to call witnesses. A final determination in writing will be made and will contain a statement of the facts found, conclusions, and decisions reached.

ACADEMIC RIGHTS - GRADING AND ADVANCEMENT

Students have the right to appeal a grade arrived at in violation of school grading policies or academic disqualification in accordance with the Grade Review Policy.

ACCOMMODATION OF DISABLED STUDENTS

Students with a disability have a right to reasonable accommodation in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Accommodation requests must be submitted to the Administration Office in accordance with the school's policy for accommodation of disabled students.

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT

Lincoln Law School abides by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. No one outside Lincoln Law School may have access to, nor will Lincoln Law School disclose, any information from a student's education or personal record without the written consent of the student.

Exceptions are Lincoln Law School personnel, officials of other institutions in which the student seeks to enroll, accrediting agencies carrying out their accreditation functions, organizations providing the student's financial aid, and persons in compliance with a judicial order. Exceptions also may be made for persons in an emergency in order to protect the health or safety of the student.

Within the Lincoln Law School community, only members acting in the students' educational interest are allowed access to student education records. These members include personnel from the Administration Office, including the registrar, the director, and the dean, as well as academic personnel within the limitations of their need to know. Lincoln Law School is committed to maintaining student confidentiality.

COUNSELING AND TUTORING SERVICES

The faculty at Lincoln Law School is available by appointment to provide general counseling and specific tutoring services to students. Tutoring services generally consist of identifying areas where additional assistance is necessary and referring the student to appropriate tutors, who may be upper-class students or recent alumni, or other resources that will be helpful to the student. In addition, the dean, director, and staff maintain an open-door policy, which allows students access to discuss any problems or concerns.

PROVIDING LEGAL SERVICES

Students at Lincoln Law School of Sacramento are subject to the California Rules of Professional Conduct while in law school. Those Rules prohibit the practice of law without a license. Students, therefore, are not authorized to engage in the practice of law, except as permitted by the Committee of Bar Examiners when the student has registered as a Certified Law Student. Often family, friends, and members of the public will ask a law student for legal advice. Students should in no circumstances provide the requested legal advice. Practicing law without a license is a serious offense and could prevent or delay a student's admission to practice, even after passage of the bar examination. We refer those requesting advice to the State Bar website where there are resources listed under Public > Legal Information > Legal Help and Other Options:
