PROGRAM STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

INTRODUCTION

Student learning outcomes and performance criteria define and describe the skills students will obtain upon completion of their legal education. Graduates of Lincoln Law School of Sacramento will demonstrate competency in the areas identified in the general student learning outcomes and the more specific performance criteria necessary for admission to the California Bar and in becoming effective and ethical members of the legal profession consistent with an entry-level practitioner.

Assessment of course and program objectives takes place during the program, and various methods are used to measure student success in terms of learning outcomes and performance criteria. Through a direct review of student progress, Lincoln Law School is able to measure individual proficiency and mastery of general learning outcomes and performance criteria relative to each specific course. These methods include midterm and final examinations, as well as the skill level demonstrated in practice exams and class participation. For “skills” classes (Moot Court, Trial Practice, Civil Law Pleading and Practice, Criminal Law Pleading and Practice, etc.), student-learning outcomes and performance criteria are measured through both written assignments and class presentations. Through indirect evidence, Lincoln Law School is able to measure the student’s self-perceptions of their learning and experience with the program and curriculum, including whether student-learning outcomes and performance criteria have been met. The indirect evidence includes anonymous evaluations of each individual course and professor. We continually reassess our student-learning outcomes and performance criteria to ensure an ever-improving legal education.

WHEN DO I HAVE TO PAY MY TUITION?

Tuition is due the day students register. If paying in full and not utilizing the deferred payment plan, payment may be made online, by check, credit card, or cash. If students are using the deferred payment plan, the first installment of tuition and school fees are due the day a student registers. The remaining payments are due on or before the 1st of each month, as indicated on their financial tab in Populi.

DEFERRED PAYMENT PLAN

Students may choose this option for payment, which allows tuition payments to be made on a monthly basis. Arrangements for the Deferred Payment Plan must be made prior to registration. There is a $25 per semester service charge for using this plan.

Payments are due on or before the 1st of each month. Timely payments are a condition for participation in the program. Invoices will be sent through Populi, and payment may be made online from your invoice or through your Populi financial tab.

Your participation in this plan may be revoked if compliance is not adhered to.

- Administrative Dismissal: Failure to make two consecutive payments is grounds for administrative dismissal. Students subject to dismissal will be notified in advance.
- Ineligibility for Examinations: Students who have outstanding tuition owed are not eligible to register or take exams. Students with past due balances will be contacted and informed that they will not be allowed to take the exam unless their account is current. All checks and credit card payments must be cleared for payment 24 hours before the exam.
- Revocation of Deferred Payment Privileges: Students who fail to make payments as agreed will be ineligible for future deferred payment privileges.

Financial questions may be addressed to the Registrar, Melissa Fuller Haskin.

WHAT IF MY CHECK BOUNCES?

A $45.00 return check fee will be applied to your tuition account. A second insufficient funds check will result in subsequent payments only being accepted if made by cash or credit card. Be aware that each student who attends Lincoln Law School and, ultimately, prepares for the California Bar exam, must be certified by the School to the Committee of Bar Examiners as being a fit candidate to be admitted to the Bar. This certification includes a survey of personal information on the applicant, including knowledge of worthiness. It becomes a difficult situation when a student seeking admission to the Bar issues multiple checks with insufficient funds.

STUDENT LOANS

We do not participate in TITLE IV funding through the Department of Education (DOE); therefore, we do not have a DOE school code. The school offers an interest-free deferred payment plan to assist students in paying for their education as it is received. However, the School recognizes that financial demands often necessitate obtaining loans. It is for this reason that the School participates in the SallieMae Law School Loan program.

SallieMae Law School Loans are arranged directly between the lender and the student and are based on the student's credit-worthiness. Lincoln Law School in no way makes, guarantees, or is in any way responsible for a student's decision to obtain a loan or ability to repay. Information about the SallieMae loan program can be obtained from the following:

SLM Financial Corporation Phone: 1-877-279-7172

Web Address: www.salliemae.com/student-loans/graduate-student-loans/law-school-loan

REFUNDS

If a student determines, prior to the start of the semester, that they will not attend the School, any tuition previously paid will be refunded. All tuition refunds are calculated based upon the date of withdrawal. No fees are refundable. To view the current refund schedule, please see the Academic Calendar on the website or in the School Catalog.

Refunds are made within 30 days of the withdrawal date or the student's last day of attendance. Should subsequent Federal or California regulations require a change to this Refund Policy, Lincoln Law School will adhere to such requirements. If a student is also a loan recipient with a credit at the time of withdrawal, the credit will be returned to the lender. Loan credits will not be refunded to the student.

The California State Bar's Practical Training of Law Students Program certifies students to make court appearances under the supervision of a licensed attorney. To become certified, you must have completed or be enrolled in Civil Procedure and Evidence.

EVALUATIONS

Our students' opinions are greatly valued. The evaluations of the school, faculty, and courses, help to improve the program. With student input, the school is able to continually improve the law school experience. At the end of each course, the professor will allow time to participate in the faculty/course evaluations, done on Populi. Each submittal is anonymous, and professors do not see any comments until after grades are submitted. Other surveys are administered via Survey Monkey and are anonymous. Although these evaluations are not required, it is expected and strongly encouraged that you participate.

REDUCE VIRUS RISK

If your computer gets infected with a virus, all student information can be compromised, including your Populi account. Use an updated anti-virus program and avoid downloading and running software from untrusted websites or emails. Always install the latest updates for Windows or Mac since these updates often patch serious security holes.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Lincoln Law School requires regular and punctual attendance. An official class record is maintained by the School, which shows the attendance record for each student. The School must confirm to the Committee of Bar Examiners that each student has attended classes as required, in order to be certified to take the Bar examination.

The number of allowed absences depends upon the number of units of the course. For example, for a three-unit course, students are allowed a maximum of three absences. For a two-unit course, two absences are allowed. No absences are allowed for one-unit courses. Student may be withdrawn from a class for excessive absences in that class. Students may be disqualified from the program for excessive absences.

Occasionally, a student may miss a class due to an illness or emergency. Only the dean may excuse absences and documentation explaining the reason for the absence must be presented at the time of the request.

Students may view their attendance record on their Populi account. Any dispute as to the accuracy of the Populi absence record must be made to the professor in a timely manner, within two days of the absence being posted.

DO I HAVE TO ATTEND EACH CLASS SESSION?

Please make every effort to attend all classes. Regular and punctual attendance is essential at Lincoln Law School. The School requires faculty to take attendance in the on-site pathway during each class. Attendance for the hybrid pathway is calculated based on assignments and the face to face weekend meetings. It is your responsibility to monitor your attendance on your Populi account under each course enrolled. While the School will notify you if you have used your last absence, the school is under no obligation to do so. If you miss more classes than allowed, a meeting with the dean will be necessary as required by the State Bar.

At the professor's discretion, those who are unprepared for class, arrive late, or leave early may also be treated as absent.

CAN I LEAVE AT THE BREAK?

Students are expected to remain in class for the entire scheduled class period. Those who leave before the class is dismissed may be marked absent. Faculty may take roll a second time, after break.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN I AM ABSENT?

Please try your best to avoid any absences. To check how many absences you have, you may see your attendance record on your Populi account. Check your Populi course page for any materials that may have been posted. Excused absences due to illness or emergencies require verification. Only the dean may excuse an absence and documentation must be presented at the time of request. Any dispute about absences

MUST be made with the Professor in a timely manner, according to the Attendance Policy. Excessive absences may result in Administrative Disqualification. Students who have been disqualified due to absences must petition the Academic Standards Committee for reinstatement.

HOW MANY ABSENCES ARE ALLOWED PER CLASS?

3-unit class	=	3 absences
2-unit class	=	2 absences
1-unit class	=	No absences

If any clarification is needed, please contact the Administration Office.

WHAT IF I AM LATE?

It is your responsibility to ensure prompt arrival out of respect for the professor and your classmates. Late arrival may be disruptive to the class. If you arrive late for class, it is your responsibility to verify with the professor that your attendance is noted.

MAY A CLASSMATE SIGN THE ROLL SHEET FOR ME?

No. A student may not sign a roll sheet for another student. This action would result in a falsification of the official records of the School and could subject both students to disciplinary action.

WHAT IF I MISS AN EXAM?

If you miss an exam and have not received prior permission to be absent for such exam, you will receive a grade of "F" in the course. Approval to miss a scheduled examination will be given only in cases of serious emergencies and illnesses where the Dean is notified in writing. Verification of the emergency or illness is required.

If the Administration approves your absence from an examination, a make-up examination may be given. There will be a make-up exam fee of $200 associated with the rescheduling of an exam. Please note that normally, no grade higher than a "C" can be earned from a make-up examination.

WHAT IF I MISS ALL MY EXAMS?

If you fail to take all of your examinations and did not contact the school, grades of "F" will be posted for all courses, and you will be dismissed from school.

GRADES

HOW WILL I BE GRADED?

Each course syllabus will outline the parameters for grading. Written examinations are given at the end of each course, and most courses also have a midterm approximately midway through the course. Each professor grades their students' exams.

DO THE PROFESSORS KNOW THEY ARE GRADING MY EXAMS?

It is the policy of Lincoln Law School to preserve the anonymity of the student throughout the grading process until the professor has submitted all grades for that examination. Anonymity is accomplished by using assigned exam numbers. The staff checks each exam to ensure that names have not been included. In courses such as Moot Court and Trial Advocacy, which rely on oral presentations, the grading is monitored by video camera or by judges and the instructor. Anonymity is not applicable in these Pass/Fail courses.

WHEN WILL I KNOW MY GRADES?

The professors are asked to return the grades within three weeks. After the professor has scored the exams, the dean must approve the grades for release. Grades will then be visible on your Populi account. Your grades may be locked on your account if any financial obligations are pending.

HOW CAN I FIND OUT WHEN GRADES ARE POSTED?

As grades are approved for release, an email will be sent informing you. Please do not call the office requesting your grades. If you have a question about a lock on your grades, call the office for more details.

WHEN CAN I GET MY EXAMS?

In compliance with the Rules of the Committee of Bar Examiners, students' midterm and final essay examination answers are kept on file for one year. Essay exams will be handed back to each student.

WHAT IF I HAVE A QUESTION FOR THE PROFESSOR ABOUT MY EXAM?

A student wishing to review an essay answer with a professor should, prior to scheduling a meeting with the professor, review the exam answer carefully. In order to keep grade change petitions anonymous a grade change may not be permitted if a student has contacted the professor about the exam answer and their grade.

If a student wishes to petition for a grade challenge, they must follow the policy set forth below and must not contact the professor about their exam.”

GRADE REVIEW POLICY

1. Policy Statement

The purpose of this policy is to allow a student to challenge a grade by showing that a professor substantially deviated from their grading policy on one or more issues in an essay answer.

2. Grade Challenge Petition

A student who contends that a substantial deviation from grading policy has occurred may file a Grade Challenge Petition. The petition shall be submitted to the Administration Office within fourteen (14) days after posting of the grade.

The Grade Change Petition must be completed on the Grade Change Petition form.

There will be no exceptions. The petition will be made anonymously with only the student examination number to be provided. Information pertaining to the course, term, instructor, question or questions for which a grade change is requested are also to be provided by the student.

Students requesting a grade change must provide supporting data with specific reasons for which a change is requested. The student must also attach a copy of the exam.

The course professor will review the petition and either approve or deny the request. The professor is required to provide the reasons supporting their decision. The petition and professor's decision will then be submitted to the dean for review.

After the review is complete, the student will be provided a copy of the completed grade change petition.

3. Appeal Process

The Law School shall have a Grade Review Committee, consisting of professors with at least three years of essay grading experience. The Committee shall hear all Grade Challenge Petitions. The Committee shall schedule a hearing with the student appellant. The Committee may elect to have one of its members conduct the hearing and report the findings to the other members. The professor whose grade is challenged shall attend the hearing whenever possible.

The Grade Review Committee shall make decisions by majority vote. At the hearing, there will be a presumption of regularity as to the grade bestowed and the student shall bear the burden of proving a substantial deviation in grading by the professor.

The proceeding will be informal. The amount of time allotted and the direction of the questioning shall be at the discretion of the Committee. The Committee may, in its discretion, ask either party to furnish additional evidence, and all parties shall have the right to inspect all relevant documents.

The Chairperson will reduce the decision to writing and furnish copies to the parties. The decision shall be forwarded to the dean and will be final and binding.

HOW IS MY GPA CALCULATED?

Letter grades have the following grade point value:

A	4.0 grade points per unit
A -	3.7 grade points per unit
B+	3.3 grade points per unit
B	3.0 grade points per unit
B-	2.7 grade points per unit
C+	2.3 grade points per unit
C	2.0 grade points per unit
C-	1.7 grade points per unit
D+	1.3 grade points per unit
D	1.0 grade points per unit
D-	0.7 grade points per unit
F	0.0 grade points per unit

Your GPA is calculated by multiplying the number of units for each graded course by the grade points per unit for the grade received. The total grade points for all classes are then divided by the total number of units earned in graded courses to determine your GPA.

HOW WILL I KNOW MY GPA?

A transcript is sent to each student at the end of the academic year. If a transcript is needed at any other time, a written request to the registrar is required. Forms for requesting a transcript are available at the Administration Office or online at www.lincolnlaw.edu. There is a fee of $25.00 for each official transcript requested.

Unofficial transcripts can be printed from Populi by clicking on - My Profile > Student > Gear Icon > Export Transcript.

HOW WILL MY GPA BE AFFECTED BY A CREDIT/NO CREDIT COURSE?

In a credit/no credit course, you will receive credit for a course if a grade of "CR" is earned and will receive no credit if a grade of "NC" is earned. Neither grade will affect your grade point average.

HOW WILL MY GPA BE AFFECTED BY A PASS/FAIL COURSE?

In a pass/fail course, you will receive credit for a course if a grade of "P" is earned and will receive no credit if a grade of "F" is earned. Only an "F" grade will affect your grade point average.

IF I RECEIVE NO CREDIT, WILL I HAVE TO REPEAT THE COURSE?

If you receive an "NC" or "F" grade in a required course, you will be required to repeat the course to meet the School's graduation requirements. Because you are required to earn sufficient units to graduate, if you receive "NC" or "F" in an elective course, you will have to repeat the course or take a different course with the same number of units. If you repeat a course in which you received a grade of "F", your new grade will replace the "F", which will no longer affect your GPA.

ACADEMIC STANDING

HOW IS MY ACADEMIC STANDING DETERMINED?

Academic standing is determined at the close of the Spring Semester of each school year. If you have obtained a grade point average of 2.0 or higher for the year and have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or higher, you will be advanced in good standing. First-year students must, additionally, pass two of the three core first-year courses (Contracts, Criminal Law, and Torts) with a grade of "C" or better to advance to the second year in good standing.

WHAT IF I AM NOT ADVANCED IN GOOD STANDING?

If you fail to obtain a grade point average of 2.0 or higher for the year or cumulatively, you will be subject to academic disqualification. You will receive a letter with a copy of your transcript at the end of the academic year notifying you of your right to petition the Faculty Committee on Academic Standards for review of your academic disqualification. The Committee may allow you to advance on academic probation, may require that you repeat a year of study, may require that you repeat certain courses, or may allow your academic disqualification to take effect. The Committee's decision is final, and there is no appeal available.

WHAT IS THE FACULTY COMMITTEE ON ACADEMIC STANDARDS?

The Committee consists of three to five faculty members. Its duty is to review such academic matters as petitions to continue at Lincoln when the student is subject to academic disqualification. Petitions must be made in writing, and decisions of the Committee are final.

ACADEMIC DISQUALIFICATION

WHY WOULD I BE ACADEMICALLY DISQUALIFIED?

- Failure to maintain a cumulative academic grade point average of 2.00
- Failure to obtain a grade point average of 2.00 for any academic year

WHAT DO I DO IF I AM ACADEMICALLY DISQUALIFIED?

Upon notice that you are subject to academic disqualification, you may petition the Faculty Committee on Academic Standards for review of your academic record and request advancement on probation or other appropriate action, in writing. The petition should include the following:

- Demonstrate that you possess the ability to succeed in the study of law and that your academic disqualification was due to causes other than lack of academic capacity (e.g. unforeseen personal problems, illness, or major family difficulties).
- Explain the change in circumstances, conditions etc., that enable you to achieve academic good standing.

The petition may, additionally, be accompanied by any supporting documentation and letters of reference that you feel support the petition. Letters from faculty members, however, will not be considered by the Committee. The Committee's decision is final, and there is no further appeal available.

MISCELLANEOUS

CAN I BRING MY CHILDREN TO SCHOOL WITH ME?

With the exception of the Administrative Office, children are not allowed in the building when class is in session. Although your children may be well behaved, it is distracting to your classmates to have children in the classroom at any time, and it is inappropriate to leave children unattended in the building. Please be respectful of students who may be preparing for class.

WHERE CAN I PARK?

Student parking is allowed in the parking spaces behind the school, on the street, and in public parking lots nearby. Please leave the spots on the side of the building open for staff and faculty. Our professors MUST have a spot to park! However, on Legal Writing days, students are not allowed to park in the School's parking lot (unless they are using the handicapped spots and must have a handicapped placard displayed). We need the extra spaces for our Legal Writing readers.

Students may only park in areas that are clearly marked as parking spaces. Any cars parked in non-designated parking spaces may be towed. In consideration of our neighbors, students are requested not to park in residential areas around the School.

Some available parking is located at Smolich & Smolich, 3200 J Street, only in their designated parking spaces after 5:30 p.m. There is no parking along the side of the building at Smolich & Smolich.

If you are parked illegally, your car will be towed. Safeway and the Eye Clinic have warned us that they will tow students' cars parked in their parking lots. In addition, U.S. Bank will tow any cars parked in front of their ATM.

WHAT DO I DO IF MY CAR IS TOWED?

If your car is towed from the School's parking lot, call Rincon Towing Inc. at (916)452-2303.

STUDENT CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE

Lincoln Law School expects its students to uphold the highest standards of ethics and good moral character while enrolled at the School. Good moral character includes qualities of honesty, fairness, candor, trustworthiness, observance of fiduciary responsibilities, respect for and obedience to the laws of the state and the nation, along with respect for the rights of others and for the judicial process.

Electronic Communications Guidelines

Electronic Communication Etiquette

Utilizing the Schools virtual platform, Populi, Zoom, etc. requires professional communication within the law school community. Communicating virtually often may lack the benefit of seeing body language and tone of voice. This may lead to misunderstanding or unintentional offense. Students should observe the guidelines below when engaging in virtual correspondence and learning. All students are expected to behave professionally in all aspects of communication.

- Be respectful, professional, and careful about what is said and how it is said.
- Be aware of the image being projected online. Use clear writing and good form.
- As message recipients cannot read non-verbal cues such as facial expressions or easily interpret the tone of written communication, words and manners of expression must clearly indicate the intended meaning. This is particularly important when using humor (e.g. sarcasm may not be apparent in words alone).
- Respect the time of others. Keep communication short, to the point, and on topic.
- With disagreeing, be polite and gracious.
- On message boards or in discussion forums, use the subject line appropriately, employing meaningful and succinct labels so that recipients may immediately grasp the topic being advanced.
- When someone else errs and/or does not follow proper protocol, consider whether it is necessary to provide correction. If correction is in order, be polite and, if discretion is advised, address the issue privately rather than in a public way.
- Avoid using ALL CAPS, especially when disagreeing. This is perceived as shouting and considered rude.
- Comply with all copyright laws.
- Be mindful of compatibility concerns. Be sure that files uploaded to online platforms can be viewed by others.
- Be aware of issues that might arise due to cultural and languages differences.
- Do not violate the privacy of others. Do not send commercial advertisements or SPAM to other students, faculty members, or staff.

In addition, the use of Populi School and course dashboards are for educational purposes only. General student to student communication, such as job opportunities can be posted to the SBA dashboard.

WHAT CONDUCT ON MY PART COULD RESULT IN DISCIPLINE?

Administrative disciplinary action may be taken by the School against any student whose personal conduct raises serious questions, in the opinion of the administration, as to such student's fitness to remain at an institution of legal education. Such action may be imposed for any conduct by a student which violates the high standards of ethics expected of potential officers of the legal community, interferes with the rights of other students, disrupts the intended functioning of the school, or otherwise violates any of the established policies of the school, including, but not limited to, the following conduct or situations:

- Using, giving, or receiving unauthorized aid, equipment, or materials during an examination;
- Using any unauthorized materials such as notes, cheat-sheets, or electronic devices, or content generated by artificial intelligence during an examination;
- Taking credit for any work not generated by the student; work includes, but is not limited to, books, articles, compositions, images, internet postings, and content generated by software or artificial intelligence;
- Defacing, vandalizing, stealing or removing without proper authorization any property belonging to or leased by the School, including books or other materials from the school's library or Student Resource Center;
- Manufacturing, distributing, dispensing, possessing or using of any controlled substance, explosive or firearm (except peace officers) on School property;
- Engaging in harassment and or bullying of any person while on School premises or at any School function (whether or not on School premises) sponsored by or conducted under authority of the School or by any student organization, such as the Student Bar Association, affiliated with the School;
- Engaging in plagiarism or knowingly making false statements or entries in any Application for Admission to the Law School or any other document affecting the records of the Law School; and
- Willful commission and conviction of acts in violation of city, state, or federal laws or ordinances.

Computer Usage: Lincoln Law School is equipped with wireless Internet access. Please be respectful of your professors by paying attention in class and not surfing the Internet. The system should be of benefit to students with laptop computers for the Legal Research course and other research assignments.

The system is not to be used for a student's personal business, visiting inappropriate websites (such as gambling, pornography, etc.), illegal activities, or other matters not relating to the study of law. Please be advised that any violation of this policy will result in student disciplinary action.

WHAT TYPE OF DISCIPLINARY ACTION CAN BE TAKEN AGAINST ME?

Disciplinary action under these policies may include, but is not limited to, one or more of the following:

- Written or verbal reprimand, of which a notation or a copy thereof may be placed in the student's file.
- Cancellation of an examination/course grade or denial of course credit.
- Probation, suspension, or expulsion.

WHAT HAPPENS IF I AM ACCUSED OF A CONDUCT VIOLATION?

Written notice of the specific charge or charges will be issued to the student, at which time the dean will contact the student to be charged and attempt to mediate the problem through discussion. If this fails, charges will be formally made, and the dean will appoint a hearing panel to review the charges. The panel will be composed of three faculty members, the dean, and the president of the Student Bar Association or his/her/their appointee from the student body.

The student so charged may have assistance of counsel of the student's own choosing. The student may have the opportunity to call witnesses on the student's own behalf and to examine adverse witnesses.

A final determination shall be provided in writing, which shall contain a statement of the facts found and conclusions, along with the decision reached. If a sanction is imposed, it shall be clearly stated.

This procedure does not apply to matters relating to academic probation, academic disqualification, other failure to meet academic standards (except for concerns regarding a student who has improperly signed an attendance roster or signed an attendance roster on behalf of another person), or financial matters.

STUDENTS' RIGHTS AND SERVICES

A student with a non-academic or non-financial grievance should discuss the matter with the dean or Executive Director. If no resolution is forthcoming, the student has the right to have a hearing before a panel of disinterested members of the faculty and administration, have assistance of counsel, and the opportunity to call witnesses. A final determination in writing will be made and will contain a statement of the facts found, conclusions, and decisions reached.

ACADEMIC RIGHTS - GRADING AND ADVANCEMENT

Students have the right to appeal a grade arrived at in violation of school grading policies or academic disqualification in accordance with the Grade Review Policy.

ACCOMMODATION OF DISABLED STUDENTS

Students with a disability have a right to reasonable accommodation in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). The ADA forms and policy can be obtained in the Administrative Office. Accommodation requests must be submitted to the Dean in accordance with the school's policy for accommodation of disabled students. Petitions for accommodations must be submitted to the Dean a minimum of 30 days in advance of a midterm or final examination. Petitions will be reviewed by the Dean within 10 days.

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT

Lincoln Law School abides by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended. No one outside Lincoln Law School may have access to, nor will Lincoln Law School disclose, any information from a student's education or personal record without the written consent of the student. Exceptions are Lincoln Law School personnel, officials of other institutions in which the student seeks to enroll, accrediting agencies carrying out their accreditation functions, organizations providing the student's financial aid, and persons in compliance with a judicial order. Exceptions also may be made for persons in an emergency in order to protect the health or safety of the student.

Within the Lincoln Law School community, only members acting in the students' educational interest are allowed access to student education records. These members include personnel from the Administration Office as well as academic personnel within the limitations of their need to know. Lincoln Law School is committed to maintaining student confidentiality.

COUNSELING AND TUTORING SERVICES

The Student Resource Center Director and the faculty at Lincoln Law School are available by appointment to provide general counseling and specific tutoring services to students. Tutoring services generally consist of identifying areas where additional assistance is necessary and referring the student to appropriate tutors, who may be upper-class students or recent alumni, or other resources that will be helpful to the student. In addition, all members of the administrative staff maintain an open-door policy, which allows students access to discuss any problems or concerns.

Friday Review Program

The Friday Review Program is offered on select Friday nights. The program consists of Review Coordinators with outstanding academic success offering their experiences and skills through review sessions to fellow law school students. The review sessions are offered for first-, second-, and third-year courses to provide personalized attention and additional academic support.

POLICY STATEMENT ON SEXUAL HARASSMENT

PURPOSE

This policy is designed to provide an environment free from sexual harassment.

RESPONSIBILITY

It will be the responsibility of the dean and/or the executive director to support the requirements of Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, as amended, California Government Code Section 12940, and of the California Fair Employment and Housing Act.

DEFINITION

The general definition of sexual harassment is unsolicited and unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal, physical or visual conduct of a sexual nature.

PROCEDURES

Any student, staff, or faculty who believes he/she/they has been a victim of sexual harassment should immediately report the incident to the dean, registrar or executive director in writing. After an investigation, the administration shall convene the Faculty Committee on Academic Standards to review the allegations.

CONSEQUENCES

Any student, staff member, or faculty member who has been accused of such conduct will have the opportunity for a hearing before a panel composed of disinterested members of the faculty and administration. Anyone found guilty of violating this policy will be subject to immediate disciplinary action, which may include letters of reprimand, suspension, or dismissal. If it should be a student who is found guilty, a statement of the facts shall be forwarded to the Committee of Bar Examiners of the State Bar of California.

SEXUAL ASSAULT POLICY

Lincoln Law School of Sacramento is committed to offering a safe environment that promotes the furthering of higher education. Unfortunately, no educational institution can be a guarantor of a crime-free setting.

Therefore, in accordance with California Education Code, Section 94385, the following policy has been adopted in the event a sexual assault occurs on the Law School campus or at events sponsored by the School:

GENERAL STATEMENT

Of paramount importance to the school is providing assistance to victims and witnesses of sexual assault. The School strongly recommends immediate reporting of sexual assaults or any other crime to law enforcement authorities and to the school's Administration. Immediate reporting will most likely result in apprehending the one committing the assault and in deterring additional assaults.

PROCEDURES FOR NOTIFICATION FOLLOWING SEXUAL ASSAULT

Notification of Authorities: If possible, the victim or witness of a sexual assault should immediately report the incident to the police. The quickest and most efficient way is to dial 9-1-1. Trained specialists are on duty 24 hours a day to dispatch the emergency care necessary, whether it is paramedics, police, or both.
